3. Project Information

When you hire Codexa, you may provide information relating to your business, customers, products, internal processes, or technical systems. We use such information only as reasonably necessary to provide the agreed services, communicate with you, and complete your project.

Clients remain responsible for ensuring that information they provide to Codexa may lawfully be shared with us for the purpose of providing the requested services.

4. Third-Party Services

Our website and services may use third-party platforms and service providers for:

- Website hosting
- Cloud infrastructure
- Analytics
- Payment processing
- Communication
- Database services
- Software development and deployment
- Authentication
- AI-powered functionality
- Customer support

These providers may process information according to their own privacy policies and applicable agreements. Where appropriate, Codexa takes reasonable steps to use reputable service providers and limit information shared with them to what is necessary.

5. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Our website may use cookies or similar technologies to provide essential functionality, understand website usage, improve performance, and enhance the user experience.

Where legally required, we will request appropriate consent before using non-essential cookies or similar technologies.

You may also control cookies through your browser settings.

6. Data Security

We take reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect personal information against unauthorized access, loss, misuse, alteration, or disclosure.

However, no website, server, database, or method of electronic transmission can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

7. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, including providing services, maintaining business records, resolving disputes, enforcing agreements, and meeting legal obligations.

The exact retention period may vary depending on the type of information and the reason it was collected.

8. Your Privacy Rights

Depending on your location and applicable law, you may have rights relating to your personal information, including the right to:

- Request access to your personal information
- Request correction of inaccurate information
- Request deletion of certain information
- Request restriction of processing
- Object to certain processing
- Request data portability where applicable
- Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent

If you would like to exercise a privacy right, contact us using the details below. We may need to verify your identity before processing certain requests.

9. European Economic Area

Where applicable, Codexa will process personal information in accordance with applicable data-protection laws, including the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Where GDPR applies, the legal basis for processing may include:

- Performance of a contract
- Compliance with a legal obligation
- Legitimate interests
- Consent

You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with your relevant data-protection supervisory authority.

10. Children's Privacy

Our services are not intentionally directed toward children under the age required by applicable law. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children for purposes that are prohibited by applicable law.

11. Links to Other Websites

Our website may contain links to third-party websites, platforms, or services. Codexa is not responsible for the privacy practices, security, or content of third-party websites. We encourage you to review their privacy policies before providing personal information.

12. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our services, technology, legal requirements, or business practices.

When we make changes, we will update the "Last updated" date shown at the top of this page.
